Lienhardt to head Oakland

by GLORIA DAVIS Lakeland Newspapers

The Board of Education of Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 has approved the hiring of an Antioch resident, James Lienhardt, 48, to take over on July 1 as the principal of Oakland Grade School.

Lienhardt, who is presently the principal of Spaulding School in the Gurnee School Dist., will replace the retiring principal Walter Soderman.

Lienhardt, who is coming from a K-3 school building, will be receiving a starting salary of $48,000.

who requested four new teachers for the next school year and had that request deferred until after the outcome of the taxrate-raise referendum, after a reevaluation he is in need of only three new teachers for next school year.

The board approved the request for the teacher increase.

Skidmore told the board that the district had received it's 1988 equalized assessed valuation for the school district which sets the tax rate at 2.568 per $100 of assessed valuation, almost a full cent less

As Skidmore and the board promised district electors, not only will the tax rate raise for the 1989 school year, due in 1990, show less than the 54-cents approved on the referendum, but it could be less than 40 cents depending on the assessed valuation a year from now.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of four new 1989 school buses from the low bidder, Midwest Transit Equipment. Midwest's bid was for four 1989 GMC chassis at $26,235 each or a total bid of $104, 940.

The board heard that school will be dismissed on Monday, June 12, since none of the five snow emergency days were used and the board is mandated to reduce the school year by the number of unused emergency days.

The board of education has set Thursday, April 20, as the starting date for this year's teacher contract negotiations.

With all the media publicity given to the possibility of lead in school drinking water, Dist. 34 had its water tested this week and expects to get lead content results inside of two weeks.

Gun law opponents fired-up by legislation

by GLORIA DAVIS Lakeland Newspapers

In the nationwide argument concerning a private citizen's right to own and use all sorts of guns, both sides agree that stronger measures should be made to keep any kind of weapon out of the hands of criminals and mentally unstable people.

The controversy seems to arise because law abiding citizens, who either fancy guns or have one for protection, feel that new legislation is aimed at them.

Most opponents of the new gun legislation claim that all the proposed laws and any strict gun legislation will do is take protection out of the hands of the law abiding citizen.

Not so. We are talking federal and state legislation in effect and pending, not local ordinances that ban gun ownership altogether.

Some of these efforts include the banning of the importation of some kinds of semi automatic and automatic weapons. This is reportedly aimed at making it harder for drug traffickers (who seem to be the largest users of this type of weapon) to get possession of such weapons.

There are certainly many gun clubs in both Wisconsin and Illinois where people who have made target shooting and gun collecting a hobby, do so under the strictest sense of all the gun laws.

Ducks Unlimited in Illinois and the Jaycees have even held gun instruction classes and field trips for children, proporting the theory that proper knowledge promotes gun safety.

Sportsmen's Clubs have target shooting contests in Twin Lakes and Silver Lake, as well as Bristol, where many Illinois gun fanciers congregate.

With legislation urging stronger gun control popping-up on both sides of the Illinois-Wisconsin border, most of the media stories have been emphasizing the demand for more control over the sale of hand-guns and semi automatic and automatic weapons, since these seem to be used more often than rifles in the commission of crimes that range from murder, to robbery, to rape

Many Illinois municipalities like Morton Grove, Winnetka and Highland Park have already passed No-Gun ordinances. The areas that have come out the strongest against the ownership of a handgun are in the area where Laurie Dan shot up a school last year. Many of these municipalities report no deaths through the use of gun since the ordinance was passed.

With all the gun ban proponents shouting 'Guns kill,' there are those that are answering just as loudly, "guns don't kill, people do,"

Down in Florida one municipality has seen fit to have it's residents carry guns as habitually as they carry a wallet.

Those who are saying, "keep your hands off my gun," for what they claim is their constitutional right to bear arms for protection, are giving countries like Israel and Switzerland as examples where the average citizen owns a gun, often an automatic or semi-automatic weapon, and the rate of crimes committed with a gun is much lower than comparable areas in the United States.

Most opponents of the new gun legislation claim that all the proposed laws and any strict gun legislation will do is take protection out of the hands of the law abiding citizen.

Crys of "Haven't we learned from prohibition what happens when something is banned," come from the National Rifle Assn.

He didn't have a whistle, a woman. She would say clipboard or call a timeout.

He didn't yell at an official, although he was a bit tired from watching an all-star game the night before in Tucson, Arizona.

Carmel moms and sons had a chance to see another side of Joey Meyer, the DePaul men's basketball coach, normally not witnessed by the casual basketball fan. Meyer was the featured speaker at a luncheon held at the Sea Princess restaurant in Libertyville.

"Before anyone asks, and I get this question everywhere I go, coach Ray is doing fine," Meyer said of his famous father.

But Meyer did not come to Libertyville from Arizona to talk x's and o's. Rather, he came to discuss family relationships.

He said the affect his late mother had on all in the family was a profound one.

"She would be the great communicator. She was the one in the family everyone could talk to," Meyer said.

Meyer recalled his mom used to drive the six Meyer children eight hours to a camp in Wisconsin.

"It's amazing the sacrifices parents have to make for their kids. She was a strong

Restaurant gets license

by GLORIA DAVIS Lakeland Newspapers

When plans for the remodeling and expansion of the Vault Restaurant, in the village, on the corner of Main and Lake Sts., were announced months ago, the Vault requested a Class A liquor license from the village.

In keeping with its present population of between 4,500 and 5,000 people, the village had five active Class A liquor licenses, adding two more with the recent annexations of the Landmark Restaurant and the Antioch Bowl, both on Rtc. 173.

With the population count expected to go over the 5,000 mark after the 1990 census, the board agreed that the seven licenses in use were not too many.

At its last regular board meeting, the board considered the Vault's request since the license of the 911 Lounge.

Trustee Don Amundsen brought up the possibility of leaving the license open.

Mayor Toft said that he could see no good reason for net giving the license to the Vault, "especially since it isn't just a bar but a nice restaurant."

Antioch faces don't change

The faces in the village of Antioch's government haven't changed too much over the last 20 years. In picture appearing in April 1969 Antioch Reporter, Ray Toft, center is victorious in run for second mayoral term while Marilyn Sterbenz, second from right, takes seat as village clerk. A younger Bob Wilton, right, now mayor elect, was winning trustee that year.

Toft, Sterbenz, occupy village hall for 27 years

by GLORIA DAVIS Lakeland Newspapers

Except for the official turning over of offices set to start the May 1 village board meeting, the April 17 meeting was the last one that Mayor Ray Toft and Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz were official parts of, at least for the next four years.

At the last meeting of the Exchange Club of Antioch, at Struggles Restaurant, the Youth of the Month was presented to Michelle Veltman based on her community service, academic record and participation in various student activities: 4-H Club, Teens Together, Math Team, Tutoring Program, Veltman also ranks in the top 1 percent of her class.

University of Illinois. The program for this meeting of the Exchange Club was presented by Pam Cass, from the Central Baptist Children's Home located in Lake Villa.

Cass presented information to the club on the statistics of child abuse in Lake County. As the focus of the Exchange Club is the prevention of child abuse, this seemed an appropriate topic for the meeting.

Cass indicated that in 1987 there were 2,481 calls of suspected child abuse which resulted in 1,200 investigated cases. For 1988, there were 2,727 calls, and 1,177 investigated cases. One hundred fortyseven children were taken from their homes and placed in other family members' homes or foster homes.

Antioch has a small incidence of child abuse. The areas most focused in Lake County include Waukegan, Zion and North Chicago. Contributors to child abuse include unemployment, drugs and alcohol and child neglect.

Sign of abuse-isolated families, families with a high volume of activity in and out of their homes at odd hours, dirty children, quietness and an overall sadness to the faces of these children.

For Toft, this could be only a temporary parting of the ways as part of the village board.

Even though he has spent four years as a village trustee and 16 years as the village's mayor, Toft says, "I'm certainly not retiring, there's too much going on in Antioch that I want to be a part of.

Whether or not he will run for the mayor's spot again in in 1993 is a decision that is still up in the air.

Right now, with summer approaching fast, much of Toft's time will be taken up with the running of his race track in Wilmot.

Toft, who is an Antioch native, owned Ray's Shell Service Station on Lake St. when he was appointed village trustee after being the highest vote getter that was not elected when the successful candidate John Blackman retired right after he tookoffice in 1961.

He successfully ran for another two-year trustee term and in 1965 defeated incumbent Mayor Missouri Cunningham for the village's top spot.

He repeated that performance in 1969, lost to Robert Wilton in 1973. Mike Haley was mayor for one term starting in 1977.

In 1981, Toft was returned to the mayor's office after defeating five other candidates. Wilton and Haley were among that group.

In 1985, Toft defeated Trustee Mabel Lou Weber's bid for his seat.

Sterbenz came to the village hall in the same year that Toft took over as mayor.

Born in Chicago, she arrived in Antioch with her husband Joe Sterbenz(Antioch native) in 1951 and spent the next 14 years being a wife and mother to her two sons and two daughters.

She started out doing straight office work for the village until she successfully ran for the clerk's job in 1969, a job she held onto for the next 20 years.

After she performs her last official duty in swearing in Wilton and his three new trustees, Ron Cunningham, Larry Hanson and Marilyn Shineflug as well as the person who will be appointed to take over as clerk, travel will be on the top of her agenda for at least a year.

"But I just may go back to work after I get my fill of traveling between my daughter's in San Francisco, Florida and our summer home up north in Wisconsin.

What will this perky red do now that she's "39 and holding like Jack Benny?"

However, if someone talks to me at that time and I look up at a blurry face, I can't seem to comprehend what is being said to me. So, I take my glasses off to read and put them on to hear. Cheryl Henning has a solution for my problem, Cheryl advises me to get a good hearing aid, turn it to a high frequency, and on a clear day (she assures me) I'll be able to see across Lake Michigan. One of my topics this week will be weddings. The Grass Lake area is literally buzzing with weddings and engagements. Our own Nancy Biclawski, daughter of Mary and Edwin Bielawski, was married to Larry Bukantis, son Dorothy and Larry Bukantis, Sr. The ceremony was performed on Saturday, April 8, at St. Church Peter Wadsworth. That evening, 245 guests gathered for the reception at Antioch Golf Course Restaurant. The happy couple is honey-

Susie Samson, daughter of Doris and Joe Samson, will be marrying William Brown, Jr., on May 20 at the Bethany Baptist Church in DeKalb. There will be a reception at the church immediately following the ceremony.

On March 28, Julie Pietrzak, daughter of Irene and Jim Utinans, became officially engaged to Tad Domek. This happy event happened while the entire family was vacationing in Arizona and California. Both Julie and are longtime Antioch residents and past graduates of ACHS. Julie and Tad have not set the wedding date yet, but promised to call us when they do.

Included in the list of Grass Lake girls with wedding plans are Sue Lengvenis and Cari Bennett, whom I mentioned in a former article. Congratulations to you all, and much future happiness.

The fun evening begins with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. and a delicious buffet meal starting at 7:30 p.m. Dancing by Rick will supply the music for everyone to kick up their heels after dinner. Leader thanks

A Girl Scout leader's job is very rewarding, challenging and gratifying, but it is often thankless and unappreciated. A troop leader has to find time, energy and patience in order to organize and have an effective troop. In addition to weekly meetings leaders attend workshops, trainings and overnites. At this time, the III. Prairie State Girl Scout Council, Inc., would like to thank the leaders who take the time out of their busy lives to instruct and guide the girls. They are the leaders and co-leaders from Antioch Lower Grade, Antioch Upper Grade, Antioch High, Emmons, Grass Lake, Millburn, Oakland, Petty and St. Peters'. Antioch Area Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) held their regular business meeting at the Antioch Senior Center. He also told of another bill which has been introduced making a driver's test mandatory every year for anyone 80 years old or older, Dr. Julie Plezbert, of the Agate Chiropractic Clinic, Lake Villa, was guest speaker. She described how a visit to a chiropractor may often relieve painful backs, neck injury, and even arthritic pain in the joints. Next meeting will be a social meeting on Tuesday, April 25. Sandwiches will be served, courtesy of the chapter. Cards and bingo will be played.

Getting runners on base is one thing.

Having those baserunners score runs is another.

Antioch's baseball squad found that out the hard way when the Sequoits dropped a doubleheader to open the North Suburban Conference season against Stevenson.

"We had our opportunities but we could not capitalize on them. That has been the story of our whole season," Antioch Coach Greg Decker said.

Fortunately for the Sequoits, there is still plenty of time to iron out the shortcomings in scoring baserunners and Antioch hopes to begin to work toward that end with a home doubleheader against Niles North April 22.

Sequoits left 17 men on base in two games.

in on chances

Decker went into the NSC opener with high hopes of knocking off the Pats and getting Antioch off to a good league start. The Pats had struggled at times in the pre-conference games, coming up with only a 6-6 record.

The 6-0 and 4-2 losses left Decker impressed with the home team and a 3-6-1 record.

"Stevenson is as tough as it has always been," he said. Stevenson jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning of game one and scored single tallies in the third, fourth and fifth innings. In the second game, an

Against Stevenson, the RBI double by Matt Krucek gave the Sequoits a 2-2 tie.

Stevenson then scored the winning runs in the seventh inning on a squeeze bunt.

Earlier, the Sequoits led undefeated Carmel 2-0 before falling 5-2.

Antioch did get some good news when the Sequoits topped Grant 7-3 in a wild eight-inning

Antioch entered the seventh inning ahead 3-0 but the Bulldogs managed a 3-3 tie as darkness was setting in at Fox Lake.

Antioch's bats came alive in the eighth inning. Dan Grote got his first hit of the season, an RBI single at scored Krucek. Mike Bablo then delivered the key hit - a two-run home run.

NSC momentum top goal for softball team

What a difference an inbetween-games-rest can

Just ask the Antioch Sequoits softball team.

"We looked like a different team out there in the second game," Coach Ken Anderson said of the North Suburban Conference opener against Stevenson.

And the difference showed up in the result as the Sequoits trounced the Pats 15-2 after losing the first game 5-2.

Antioch will be hoping it plays as it did in the second game and not the first when the Sequoits complete a busy five-game week with a doubleheader in Skokic against Niles North on April 22.

Anderson, whose team improved to 2-3 overall by carning the split, pointed to two aspects in particular he liked about the second Stevenson game.

"I was pleased with the improvement in the hitting and baserunning," Anderson said.

Kelly Maple was the winning pitcher. She struck out three Pats and allowed no walks.

Antioch used the most of its eight hits for the second game, Jenny Hagen, Denise Bosc and Maple all had two-for-three games at the advantage of wildness on the part of Stevenson's pitcher, who allowed six walks in the first inning while Antioch grabbed an 8-0 lead.

Antioch added another run in the second. After Stevenson scored its two runs in the second inning, the Sequoits scored twice in the fourth inning, once in the fifth frame and three more in the sixth inning.

In the first game, Antioch could only manage three hits to Stevenson's 10 safetics.

Army sends notice on Petite Lake shoreline

by GLORIA DAVIS Lakeland Newspapers

According to Mike Flynn of the Army Corps, of Engineers, Spencer Askfeldt, resident of the Blunt Park Beachwood Subdivision on Petite Lake, has been given a permit to build a retaining wall on his property on the lake to stop soil crosion into the lake.

"He does not need a permit for anything he does above the high water mark. Anything that he does below that will be included in a public notice sent to adjoining property owners, the III. Dept. of Transportation and Waterways and the Chain Waterway Management," said Flynn who is now in the process of compiling that notice.

Askfeldt has been doing shoreline work in front of marina, that he intends to reopen.

Other property owners in the subdivision are objecting and have sent many letters to area legislators and agencies trying to stop the "leveling of lakeshore property which will cause floods when it rains."

Many residents consider what Askfeldt is doing to be an "cycsore."

Flynn added that anything violating the low water mark, such as a boat ramp that has been installed and plans that reportedly include a pier, a sea wall, etc., will

The Army Corps., within 21 days, will evaluate all input they receive on the project, including environmental and health concerns, and it will be up to Col. Jess Franco, head engineer for the Army in this district, to decide what Askfeldt will be allowed to do and what he has to undo.

Consolation of growth

When a flood of new students forces the school superintendent and business manager to relocate to mobile offices, the space crunch, indeed, is a reality. That's life these days at Woodland Elementary, where conditions have been turned topsyturvy by an avalanche of growth and development. The consolidated district has been hit with more than 10 developments in various stages that require a half-dozen more classrooms every year. Voters in the mid-Lake County district have rejected three referendums in six months for additional revenue.

As if moving into a trailer isn't enough of an indignity, Supt. Marlin Meyer has been the target of a dissident taxpayer group seeking his ouster on grounds of ineptness. Board members stipulated that the trailers be placed in the front yard for better visibility. With Meyer and his staff working under the watchful eyes of passing motorists, perhaps the malcontents will be assuaged. That might be some consolation when the houses grow faster than the crabgrass—but not much,

Russia

No other state has become involved in Glasnost with the gusto of Illinois. Gov. James Thompson personally led a trade delegation to Moscow and now Univ. of Illinois graduates are jockeying for position to be among the 2,500 alumni fortunate enough to accompany the Fighting Illini eleven on its historic trek Sept. 3 to play Southern California in the Glasnost Bowl in the Soviet capitol.

Interest

Along with meeting Russian business emissaries, the Thompson delegates established a trade office and came away with the possibility of forming a "sister state" relationship with one of the larger so called Soviet republics. Football Coach John Mackovic is going to follow up spring practice with a trip to Moscow to inspect stadium facilities and make sure everything will be in readiness for his gridiron gladiators.

Why all this sudden interest n Russia being expressed in the Heartland of America, the staid, conservative bedrock of the nation? In a nutshell, the answer seems to be trade. Corn and soybean farmers in downstate Illinois and the heavy machinery manufactures in Peoria and the Quad Cities long have known that the Russians can be among our best customers---if we'll only make the effort to establish trade relations.

If anything will erase the terrible U.S. deficit, it will be exporting. Our national and state economy will benefit greatly as the export totals grow. It probably wasn't any accident that the Orange and Blue was chosen as one of the teams to introduce American football to the Russians. U of I scientists and engineers will be among fans attending the game. Again, no accident.

The Glasnost Bowl is an exciting opportunity to take big steps in furthering the improvement of international relations. Go--o-o-o Illini!

By the way, if you're interested in taking in the Glasnost Bowl, get ready to ante up $3,295. That includes air fare, hotel for six days and five nights, all meals, tickets to cultural attractions, pep rally, tailgate party and game admission. Everything's included except the vodka!

Choice to make: expensive home, costly kids?

by BILL SCHROEDER

Perhaps developers of the coveted Cunco Estate in Vernon Hills have come up with an answer to the burning question of whether development pays its own way. With lots going for $200,000 apiece and houses averaging $750,000, the prospective residents won't be able to afford raising children. Or, they'll be working so hard to make mortgage payments there won't be time to start a family.

From another perspective, Village Manager Larry Laschen explained that a proposed development of 656 units would generate healthy surpluses for the schools due to a paucity of children. We're not sure what all this means, except that maybe houses are more expensive than kids, and that with the way home prices are escalating you can have one or the other—but not both.

FAVOR RETURNED—By now, Michael McCaskey probably knows the meaning of the old saying, "What goes around, comes around." A year ago, McCaskey kept Coach Mike Ditka dangling during a contract negotiation in a painfully obvious move to tell the world who's boss of the Chicago Bears. Thursday, April 27, McCaskey will be feted by the Bear inner circle, Ditka's absence is sure to be painfully obvious. He'll be keeping a previous date as guest speaker at the Keith Ryan Benefit at Gurnee Holiday Inn.

AREA AIRPORT—Prospects are brighter than ever for a feeder airport serving western Lake County, according to George Scherer, who is retiring as mayor of Round Lake Park after a long career in public service.

Scherer says everything is in place to upgrade Campbell Airport if his successor follows through. Scherer has been working for nearly five years to acquire village control so Campbell can qualify for federal grants. Round Lake Park surrounds the 242-acre airport on three sides, and is the logical legal entity to take over the facility that caters to recreational fliers but has enormous commercial potential.

Mayor Scherer sees Campbell serving business and industry in an area including Libertyville-Mundelein, Lake Zurich, Wauconda and Antioch, besides the immediate Round Lake-Grayslake area.

The College of Lake County has expressed interest in establishing acronautical classes if Campbell is up-graded. "Waukegan Municipal Airport is getting crowded. Campbell is a natural feeder," Scherer points out. A nationally known airport consulting firm is now completing a 24-month study as a key step toward expansion.

Have vote on merger

Citizens of Grayslake, wake up. Your high school board is trying to give away our high school. We gave the present board a mandate to run the school, not to combine it with any other school. Let us demand a vote of the people of the district before any mergers are considered.

Write off farm debts

At one time the United States was the wealthiest country on this earth. We went to wars to save democracies. We spent billions arming countries. We spent billions on rebuilding war torn countries. We are spending billions defending nations against the red threat.

Central America could not exist without our handouts. Most of the billions we have paid out will never be repaid.

Why shouldn't we write off the debts that our farmers owe the government. Our citizens should come first. We should be patriotic toward our citizen farmers. They should come first. Without them we starve.

Farmers will have to pay off their debts or walk off their farms. Foreign countries won't walk off their lands; we citizens will have to pay their debts.

We need patriots, not greedy internationalists.

Ray Erickson Gurnee

Open space needs cooperation Editor:

The citizens of Libertyville Twp. voted for open space and they are being denied their sovereign rights as a community by the lack of cooperation with the township from developers, village officials and landowners. The legal question is, can the rights of special interest groups be protected without violating the rights of the open space program.

The landowners should not be denied the right to live on their land or sell at a fair market value; but open space does allow the landowner to live on his land and sell only the development rights or sell the land at fair market value (FMV). However, the problem is a landowner may not want to sell the development rights or the land at today's FMV if he anticipates that encroaching development might cause his FMV to rise. The controversy then, is a landowner's right to windfall profits fueled by aggressive over-development more of a right than the sovereign rights of a community to live in open space. A solution may be a contract that would provide an average FMV over a period of years to all landowners who sell their development rights or land to the open space program.

The developers have a right to free enterprise; but does that include ignoring the open space program by pressuring village officials with over-development. Village officials have the right to annex land and develop the villages; but does that include ignoring their citizens who voted for open space by increasing their taxes for services to support over-development?

They say everyone is for open space; but then why is the quality of our rural surroundings being destroyed by congested traffic and indifference toward our wetlands and 100-year-old oak trees?

Open space is a new frontier and special interest rights need to be protected. However, cooperation is needed from special interest groups, and that might be improved if village officials, builder associations and landowner associations had representation on an open space committee.

One of the perks of high political office is honorariums. Congress offered to ban these earlier this year in exchange for giving itself a 51 percent pay raise. But that didn't happen due to a public outery. So Congressmen continue to receive money for speaking engagements and public appearances, mostly from special-interest groups or those favorable to their cause.

According to USA Today, Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) of the 10th Dist. has received a five-year total of $36,395 in honorariums. Congressman Philip Crane (R-Arlington Heights of the 12th Dist. has gotten $113,291, the most of anyone in the 22-member Illinois delegation. Any fees over the annual individual annual limit of $26,850 are supposed to be turned over to charity.

Most such money received by any member of the House was $127,985 by Speaker Jim Wright (D-Texas). He is being investigated for accepting gifts and evading income limits.

Incidentally, neither Porter or Crane favored a ban on honorariums when the pay raise was being considered.

Public officials aren't necessarily greedy when it comes to drawing two government paychecks. Some critics call it double dipping. Like those who have held the twin jobs of township supervisor and County Board member. The only politico left in this category is James Fields of Antioch Twp., who is also Dist. 4 County Board member.

Another is William Peterson of Prairie View. Vernon Twp. supervisor for the past 12 years, he has also served as 60th Dist. state representative since 1983. When dual salaries are mentioned "Bill," as he is fondly known, is Philip Crane William Peterson regarded as a person above reproach.

"There's no other way," Peterson said. "State law says I cannot draw two salaries simultaneously." For serving in the state Legislature he is paid $36,000 annually. When it is in session—about 55 to 60 days a year—he does not receive a pro-rata share of his $38,000 township salary.

State representative is the only office mentioned in Illinois law on the matter of two salaries, Peterson said. "Anyone in public life holding two offices can simply refuse the additional compensation by sending a check back to the governmental body, their favorite charity or whatever suits their fancy."

Petropoulos: A positive force in Gurnee

by KIM BOLTON LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Gust Petropoulos believes in being a part of the community.

To satisfy this belief, he is not only partners with his brother, Nick, at Petropoulos Brothers Appliances on Grand Ave. in Gurnee, but is an active member of the board of directors at Victory Hospital, and has served the Village of Gurnee for 16 years—10 on the planning commission and six as a trustee. Petropoulos is also a member of the board of directors of Marta America, which is a buying cooperative of appliance and electronics retailers that purchases large volumes in order to discount prices.

A life-long resident of the Waukegan area, Petropoulos lives in Gurnee with Beverly, his wife of 15 years, and their two children, Tom and Sophia. His Greek immigrant parents moved to Waukegan from Chicago after his father, who owned a shoe store, had his life threatened by mafia in 1929-the era of Al Capone. Petropoulos was only six months old at Petropoulos said his father moved to Waukegan because it was a nice place to raise a family. He agrees.

"I love the area. The schools are excellent. The people are extremely friendly. It's an ideal place to raise a family," Petropoulos said.

Despite the problems his father encountered in Chicago, Petropoulos said his parents were absolutely thrilled with America.

"My parents loved this country more than some of us who were born here," he said.

Petropoulos Brothers Appliances has been in existence since the post-World War II period. After serving overseas for four years, Nick Petropoulos had to find something permanent to do with his life.

According to his younger brother, he tried a few different jobs, including working in a factory, and settled on a position with North Shore Washer Service. At the time, there were no new appliances being sold due to the fact that factories were being utilized for the production of weaponry for the war. North Shore Washer Service repaired and sold old machines.

After being with the company for two years, Nick purchased North Shore Washer Service, which at that time was located in Waukegan. Gust, a high school student at the time, began working for his older brother in 1948. Nick soon added new appliances to his stock and within a few years, Petropoulos Brothers Appliance evolved into the largest appliance store in the North Shore area.

In 1958, the brother team moved their business to its present location and added electronic products to the merchandise. The building at that time was only 60 by 150 feet. But the Petropouloses added on twice, once in 1962 and again in 1964, bringing their total selling space up to 12,000 square feet which is full of refrigerators, washers, dryers, televisions, VCRs, camcorders, car phones and even movies for rent.

Petropoulos Brothers Appliance is decorated with big game trophies collected by Nick throughout his lifetime.

According to his younger brother, he bought his first .22 caliber ritle at the age of 15 and paid for it in 50 cent weekly installments.

Nick's biggest trophies, which are displayed in the store's front window, include a buffalo, a grizzly, a wolf (shot in self-defense) and a polar bear which was shot in March of '66 150 miles from land in the Chukchi Sea. School teachers bring their students to Petropoulos Brother Appliance to study the animals they may never get to see anywhere else.

Petropoulos Brother Appliances does $4 million dollars a year in business with customers from all over the county. Only 35 percent of them come from Waukegan and Gumec.

According to Petropoulos, the reason he and Nick's appliance store has been around for such a long time, and services customers from so vast an area, is because it has always backed up the products it

"Our reputation for excellent service brings people here. People know they can buy from us with confidence. We service what we sell," Petropoulos said.

Petropoulos has always enjoyed his partnership with his brother and says they have never had a fight. Their father taught them to walk away from an argument because, once you say something hurtful, you can never take it back.

"My brother and I have never had an argument. When he senses that I'm really upset about something, he waits until the next day. Somehow it doesn't seem as severe then," Petropoulos said.

Not only do the Petropouloses use their father's lesson in their personal lives, they also carry it over into their business. They believe that in order to be successful, you must treat others the way you want them to treat you.

"We really believe in that motto, treat people the way you want to be treated. It's a motto that we live our business by," Petropoulos said.

Q. Will disposable contact lenses be available soon?

A.Disposable contact lenses are coming but high nanufacturing costs and the need for government approval will slow their introduction.

Don't expect, however, to buy a six-pack over he counter. Contact lens wear must be professionally monitored to avoid wearing complications. Regular eye examinations are also important in diagnosing eye disease or vision problems that can arise regardless of the type of vision correction you wear. So you'll be getting your disposable lenses through your optometrist. The big advantage of them will be that, with lower costs, you'll be able to change your lenses more frequently and avoid the buildup of deposits on them that often leads to wearing

Stack-On acquires Atkinson

Stack-On Products Co., a privately held Wauconda-based manufacturer of tool storage equipment, acquired Atkinson Mfg., a Ludington, Mich., subsidiary of Vermont American Tool and manufacturer of portable hand tool boxes, John Lynn, president of Stack-On has announced.

The new subsidiary of Stack-On Products takes on the name Amerastar, Inc. Atkinson's current management remains in control of the manufacturing facility, while marketing and sales transactions operate from Stack-On's Wauconda offices. Neither company expects downsizing as a result of the merger.

The acquisition marks the first for Stack-On Products, and "is a logical progression in our marketing strategy," said Jon Fiscus, vice president of sales and marketing and company spokesperson. "We wanted to add a product that would complement our line, appeal to existing and potential customers, and provide a broader assortment. We were impressed with the caliber of Atkinson's management, its operation, as well as its cost efficiency in producing quality portable tool boxes.Our product line, coupled with Atkinson's, will allow Stack-On to offer its customers a complete range of competitively priced, quality merchandise."

As a result of the acquisition, each company's customers will have the advantage of a single source vendor with a more complete product line allowing for more frequent turns and order economies.

Stack-On Products manufactures a wide range of modular tool storage equipment including chests, roller cabinets, portable hand boxes as well as specialty products for the health care industry and original equipment manufacturers.

It distributes nationally to customers in the hardware, home center, discount, mass merchandiser, automotive and farm-fleet industries as well as government and wholesale. Stack-On also exports to the European market.

Atkinson Mfg.'s client list crosses similar product lines. It distributes heavily in the hardware, home center, discount and automotive areas, manufacturing units for both professionals and do-it-yourselfers.

Krupp Group offers complete liquidity, no risk

by JEROME ALEXANDER

The Krupp Group, a highly experienced real estate professional group, is now operating limited partnerships that solve the negatives that have existed before in investing in real estate. We now can have safety, high yields, liquidity and an opportunity for substantial appreciation.

The partnership lends mortgage money to experienced developers and rehabers. As each mortgage is completed, approval is obtained from Ginny Mae making the mortgage guaranteed by the U.S. government. The investors cannot No-risk limited partnership experience a mortgage default.

The quarterly yield initially is a 8.25 percent to 8.75 percent, growing to at least 11 percent, and probably much more over the one- to 10-year period that the partnership exists.

Guarantees are built into every mortgage. As the owner raises rent during the 10-year period, the investors must receive 20 to 40 percent of every increase.

All participating mortgages have fiveyear, no pre-payment clauses, leaving time for value to be added. In other words, if interest rates go down, the developer cannot refinance the mortgage; he is locked in to current rates. After the five years, as each owner sells, the limited partner must get 20 to 40 percent of the profit. Any property not sold at the end of

10 years must be appraised and cash is given to the partnership, paying off the mortgage and the percentage of increase which goes to Krupp.

Amazingly, there is complete liquidity with no risk. Every quarter, Krupp will repurchase your investment for what was invested on a first-come basis: to date, all requests have been honored. The partnership can either reinvest for you or issue periodic checks. This makes it a perfect investment for people who want income or for IRAs, pension or profit sharing plan accounts. We have never had the opportunity to invest in real estate, get safety of principal, a good yield, liquidity, and a decent chance for substantial yild increases and a large gain after 10 years

I know of no one who does not believe real estate taxes will continue to ri Every owner must raise rents to cover t cost of additional taxes. We automatical share in the increase on a yearly basis. Lincolnshire to do '70, Girls, 70'

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents the hilarious John Kander and Fred Ebb musical "70, Girls, 70," which opened April 19 and plays through June 18.

Based on the play "Breath of Spring," 70, Girls, 70 concerns the efforts of a group of senior citizens to win a little self-respect.

Times have gotten tough in their rickety hotel. The tv doesn't work, the sofa is broken, but still, it's their home. Just when eviction seems inevitable, they discover the rewards of a little larceny.

Comedy and humor abound as this notso-down-and-out group says "yes to life, loud and clear."

Composer Kander and co-author and lyricist Ebb first combined their efforts as songwriters with the hit single, "My Coloring Book," followed by "I Don't Care Much" for Barbara Streisand.

Their Broadway collaboration began in 1965 with "Flora, the Red Menace," which also established their long association with the show's star, Liza Minnelli.

Following her television special, "Liza With a Z," they wrote all of her movie music, including "Lucky Lady," "Cabaret" and "New York, New York," and the Broadway productions "The Act" and "The Rink," co-starring Chita Rivera.

Kander and Ebb's contributions to the history of musical theatre include "Cabaret," "The Happy Time," "Zorba," "Chicago," "Woman of the Year," "The Act" and "The Rink.'

Their acclaimed television specials include "Ol' Blue Eyes is Back," starring Frank Sinatra, and "Gypsy in My Soul," starring Shirley MacLaine.

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre's production of 70, Girls, 70 stars Alene Robertson (Ida), and features William Akey (Eddie), E. Faye Butler (Melba), Diane Houghton (Sadie), Margaret Ingraham (Grandmother), Ronald Keaton (Detective Callahan), Dennis Kelly (Harry), Rence Mathews (Fritzie), Rob Rahn (Officer Lubliner), Bill Reilly (Walter), Pat Vern-Harris (Gert) and Ann Whitney (Eunice).

plot silly Moon'

by TOM WITOM

"Ring round the Moon." the Jean Anouilh romantic fable at Chicago's Steppenwolf Theater, has a smart set, and its enthusiastic cast is crisply directed by Rondi Reed.

But the silly plot with its idiotic contrivances relegates the play to the land of fluff. It really is not very amusing to see a grown man-or woman(in this outing, we have both given to such outbursts)— beating their fists on the floor because they didn't get their own way.

Granted, Tim Hopper does nice work in his dual role as the wild Hogo and his shy twin Frederic.

And there are some delicious moments, such as when Sarah Long, as isabelle, gets into a bariering match with Clive Rosengren, as Messerschmann, and the two end up ripping to bits a small fortune in currency.

There is even some witty dialogue now and then, as when lingo disdainfully refers to a pompous party-crasher at the ball as "cooing, clucking, crowing-all our feathered friends rolled into one!" Often, however, it falls flat,

The family islands of the Bahamas

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

So you've taken that four-day cruise and visited Nassau. You even took the cab ride over the bridge to Paradise Island. You've seen all there is to see in the Wrong. You have more than 700 islands to go! Starting about 50 miles off Palm Beach, Florida, and covering some 450 miles is the part of the Bahamas known as the "Family Islands." Each of these many islands has its own personality, yet all have a few things in common. They are uncrowded, relaxed, unspolled and peaceful. This is the place to go to really get away from it all. For you fishermen, try the Bimini Big Game Club on the Island of the same name. Tuna weighing over 800 pounds and blue marlin well over 500 pounds have been caught within yards of the Island of Bimini.

If you take Columbus' word for it, Long Island is the most beautiful of the many islands which he discovered in the late 1400s. With its miles of placid beached, it is easy to see why this early Italian tourist felt that way. It is also an island very popular with divers.

For a more modern opinion, "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous," Travel and Leisure, and Playboy all featured Walker's Cay as one of the 10 best getaway islands in the world! With hotel space for only 135 guests and room for 75 yachts in the marina, you're not likely to find crowds of tourists.

The family islands can be reached by flying into Nassau, and from there taking Bahamasair to many of the larger islands.

There are many charter boats visiting those islands not serviced by air. Even the smallest of the islands is accessible by mail boat.

If you want to visit the family islands in style, Premier Lines (the Disney Cruise people) will offer a cruise to several of the family islands beginning June 1, 1989.

4-Star treats 'Subject'

"Subject to Change" is the real honest-to-goodness title of the comedy by Jules Tasca, presented by Four-Star Productions, running at the Tamara Royale Inn in McHenry.

Originally written for Phyllis Diller, the zany pilot reveals what happens when love and marriage threaten to separate two spinster sisters who have lived together as a geriatric "odd couple." The lazy, trecloading sister stops at nothing to foul up the lovers. Add the old boyfriend's boozing mother to the antics and the laughs swell to hilarity.

Featured in the romp are Lillian Allen of Trevor, Anne Marie Cina and Yvonne Alton of McHenry. Lending support to the fun are Don and Pat Crop of Mundelein and George Cina of McHenry.

The production is presented every Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in a lunch and theatre package. And Sunday Brunch by special arrangement only.

The lunch starts at noon, and show time is at 1:30 p.m. The production runs through June. Call (815)344-0565 for reservations and information.

Sheridan will close

FT. SHERIDAN-Closing of this military base and 85 others nationwide was approved earlier this week by a 381-43 vote of the House. Closing this military base, which last week opened an ultra-new commissary, will take an estimated five years with the last military personnel leaving in 1995. The base has 1,525 military personnel and 1,650 civilian employees. The base's two major units, headquarters of the 4th U.S. Army and the U.S. Array Recruiting Command, will be transferred to Ft. Benjamin Harrison, near Indianapolis. Current civilian employees will be offered jobs there. Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmette) of the 10th Dist. will discuss the impact of the base closing at a public hearing Monday, April 24, from 1 to 4:30

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FIRST-YEAR FEET

FIRST-YEAR FEET

by

Dr. Gary L. Rippberger

What happens during a baby's first year sets the stage in development of the feet. Consider:

1. It is in the first year that the feet grow most rapidly.

2. The foot is one of the most complex structures of the body, with 26 bones and networks of ligaments, muscles, blood vessels and nerves. A baby's feet are soft and pliable. Abnormal pressure can cause deformities with life-long repercussions.

Avoid covering the baby's feet tightly. Restricting movement can retard development. Lying uncovcired allows the baby to kick and perform other motions which help prepare the feet for weightbearing.
See that the baby doesn't lie in one position too long, especially on the stornach. This can put excessive strain on the feet and legs.

Early podiatric examination can help prevent future foot problems.

He was born in Chicago, Ill., on March 17, 1904. Mr. Todt was a sheet metal worker and had been employed by the Hunter Clarke Ventilating Company for many years before his retirement, and was a member of the Sheet Metal Workers Union 73 of Chicago. He was a veteran of WWII.

I didn't mind getting my shots because the dog doctor (called a veterinarian is so kind to me).

I am four months old and super healthy because I cat what is good for me, take naps, and play a lot (this last is sometimes called exercise).

Mustangs celebration

Members of the Mundelein gymnastics team proudly display first-place championship trophy won at own Wayne Whitmore Invitational. Championship marked first time Mundelein team won Whitmore's first place honors.

MHS gymnasts win two crowns, ready for own regional meet

With two invitational championship titles in 24 hours and only one dual meet for the next 10 days, one might expect the Mundelein gymnastics team to take a breather for a few days.

"We're not going to relax until the finals of the state meet are over," Mundelein gymnastic Coach Doug Foerch said.

Mundelein started the fruitful weekend by claiming its own Wayne Whitmore Invitational first-place trophy with 156.7 points. Saturday, the state-ranked Mustangs topped Addison Trail by five points to win the meet at York with 155.8 points.

The kids have a lot more confidence in themselves now," Foerch said.

Foerch said the York meet proved an important point to the Mustangs, "It showed us we don't have to be perfect in every routine to win," he said.

Mundelein faced Elk Grove in the final dual match April 20 before preparing for their own regional May 7.

The Mustangs were not in perfect health when the two invites began. Key gymnasts Jeff Turnbull (upper back), Rich Picchietti (shoulder) and T. J. Dortch Mundelein had lost a 140-118 decision to Lake Park before the Whitmore Invitational.

One would not know of the injuries from any of the three's performances. Dortch led the way with first-place showings in the vault, pommel horse, floor exercise, horizontal bars and parallel bars and all around.

One of Dortch's closest competitions came in the pommel horse, where he topped Dennis Zawilla of Elk Grove 8.8 -

He averaged 9.08 for those events, the only gymnast in the 11-team field to accomplish that feat. Picchietti finished first in the still rings with a 9.4, topping teammate Turnbull's 9.2 score.

Turnbull's top score was an 8.9 on the horizontal bars, good enough for second behind Dortch's 9.3 score.

With the host Mustangs pleasing the large crowd, the battle was for second place. Libertyville edged Conant 146.5 -141.5. The Wildcats' Matt Jackson placed second to Dortch with an 8.54 average in (shoulder) all were suffering from injuries the all-around.

The win was especially satisfying for the Mustangs because it was their first title in the 12-year history of the meet, Mundelein came close last year, finishing second to Conant and edging Libertyville by less than two points, pi

"Finishing second last year really psyched up the kids for this year," Foerch, a former Northern Illinois University gymnast, sald.

Team scores from the Whitmore meet were as follows for third through 11th: Schaumburg 141, Glennbrook South 125.6; Hoffmann Estates 118.4, Elk Grove 112.5, Maine West 112.5; Barrington 111.4; Niles North 111.2 and Highland Park 110.9.

In Elmhurst, Mundelein was expecting a tough battle from Addison Trail at the York meet.

Dortch was second in the pommel horse, high bar, vaulting and floor exercise.

Mundelein won a first-second and third place sweep in the parallel bars. Dortch was first with an 8.8, Tumbull second at 8.5, while Picchietti was third at 8.4

Dortch won the all-around and Turnbull was second.

continue hits Lancers hope progress,

One can usually hear the phrase at almost any baseball game.

A couple of batters get on base via a basehit, walk, or get hit by a pitch.

"There are a couple of ducks out there on the pond," someone will say.

College of Lake County baseball Coach Gene Hanson could have used the old saying frequently as of late. While the Lancers have won nine of their last 10 games to reach far above the .500 plateau, the category LOB (Left on Base) irks the veteran mentor.

"I think we've picked up a lot defensively but we still have room to improve offensively and particularly with runners on base. We are averaging seven to eight runners left on base a game," Hanson said.

The Lancers will begin a crucial series of Skyway Conference games which may go far in determining CLC's final placement. The Lancers, after hosting Waukesha Tech April 23, host league power Oakton April 25 in Grayslake.

These next six games will tell us how good we are," Hanson said as the week

Hanson, while praising his team's progress to an 18-10 overall record, cited the Truman doubleheader as an example of the LOB problem. In two games, the Lancers left 19 runners on base.

"They're getting too anxious. Without anybody on base they don't feel the pressure as much. We're hitting pitches we should not hit," Hanson said, CLC completed the week with a hitting show against Milwaukee Tech and Rock

Against Milwaukce Tech, Steve Hall, a Lake Zurich product, rapped a three-run homer while winning pitcher Brad Dodge helped his own cause with six RBIs on a three-for-four day in a 13-5 CLC win. CLC won the second game 11-0.

In the Rock Valley contest, it was the visitors' pitchers who were rocked.

Round Lake grad Tim Unroc led the assault with an eight RBI day on two grand slams. Chad Eddy had a third grand slam and Ray Salinas just missed making it four as CLC romped 22-2.

"Unroe had an incredible day," Hanson said of the outfielder.

Salinas was the winning pitcher,

Changes no problem as Rams edge Carmel

A few changes in a lineup make coaches concerned, but not Grayslake softball mentor Elaine Frantz.

Although the pitcher was pitching in her first game and the leading hitter went home sick from school and Carmel jumped off to an carly lead, all of the above were not enough to sidetrack this Rams bunch.

Taking advantage of Carmel defensive miscues, the Rams won 3-2 in a nonconference contest in Mundelein.

"Slowly but surely we're beginning to answer some of our questions. Now we know we have two pitchers," Frantz said.

Making her debut in the winning cause for Grayslake was Wendy Webb. Webb scattered six Carmel hits to post the win.

"We're pretty happy with the way she pitched," Frantz said.

Meanwhile, because hitting leader Denise Schlung went home ill, catcher Gina Grote was inserted in center and backup catcher Georgina Mohbracher got the call behind the plate.

In fact, it was Mohbracher, a junior, who proved to be the hitting star this game.

It was her two-run triple in the fifth inning which put Grayslake ahead to stay 2-1.

dramatic CLC softball squad majors

College of Lake County's softball team will be taking a break from Skyway Conference play when the Lancers travel to Marquette for a tournament April 21.

The Lancers evened their inning marathon. Skyway record at 2-2 with a sweep over Truman in Grayslake.CLC won the first game 5-3 before taking the nightcap in a 9-7, 10-

"They're pitching is real slow and it was hard for us to adjust to it," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

The Lancers improved to 8-18 overall with the win. Earlier, the CLC team had split with Kishwaukee in a non-conference doubleheader.

Kathleen Quilty was the winning pitcher in the first game against Truman, striking out six and walking four Truman batters. She fired a three-hitter to record her fifth win of the season.

The second contest Monday was a wild one, with both teams rallying for deficits.

Carla Davis went the distance for her third win of the season. She allowed 11 hits, but got the key outs when she had to.

CLC had 11 hits for the game and used them to their best advantage as six went Davis was one of the hitting stars, as she had three doubles.

"She definitely helped her own cause," Garcia said.

CLC trailed 5-3 in the seventh inning before a two-run double by Davis tied the game.

Davis had another clutch hit in the ninth inning.

Truman tied the game in the ninth inning.

CLC came back with three runs in the 10th inning. After two walks, Val Segar's RBI single gave the Lancers a go-ahead run. Two more tallies scored on a wild pitch and later a ground out by Sue Nauman. Defensively, the play of the game was made by Melody Robertson. The rightfielder, a North Chicago resident, made a shoestring-style catch of an eighth inning sinking line drive.

"Tonight was a good one to win," Garcia said. CLC proved it could win dramatic game with a narrow 6-5 decision over Kishwaukee.The Lancers made the contest's end interesting by scoring the four runs in the seventh inning.

Quilty was the winning pitcher, notching four strikeouts and walks.

The celebration did not last long, as Kishwaukee scored four runs in the first inning of the second game and won 9-2. Kishwaukee had nine of its 15 hits in the first two innings.

Carmel to show loop foes it belongs on top

It doesn't take much convincing of Lake County baseball fans and coaches who the best team is.

That's simple - Carmel Corsairs and their 13-0 record. No one in the Lakeland area even comes

But when one ventures out of the confines of Lake County, the word of Carmel's winning ways hasn't yet reached the East Suburban Catholic Conference types.

"We're looking forward to it. The New World, a Catholic newspaper, picked us to finish seventh," Carmel Coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

The Corsairs hope first to make believers out of St. Patricks in an away doubleheader April 22.

A site change and cold weather could not stop the Corsairs from gaining win No. 13 in a 9-2 victory at Woodstock.

Sean Chambers picked up his fifth straight win as he struck out eight while walking only one batter.

Dale Carlson was the hitting star, going three-forthree with four RBIs to key a 10-hit attack.

Eric Bruksch was two-fortwo with a walk and scored three runs.

Carrnel started the contest with two walks and then a two-run double by Carlson gave Carmel a 2-0 lead.

Carmel scored four times in the third inningh with Bruksch, Eric Maloney and Randy Splitt all garnering

A perfectly executed suicide squeeze bunt by Bruksch scored Ricky Splitt in the sixth inning.

Saturday Carmel recorded wins No. 11 and 12 with a doubleheader sweep of Waukegan West, 11-6, 10-6. Jim Cooney and David Woll were the winning pitchers.

"We're hitting the ball pretty well and the kids are real aggressive at the bat," Gandolfi, in his first year at Carmel, said.

Waukegan West made it a contest in both games by putting together rallies.

Carmel had clubbed Grant 14-4 Friday, Maloney was the winning pitcher, notching his third win.

Three-sport athletes find

At any given time in the summer of 1988, Scott Krzeminski could be found: -playing a baseball doubleheader for the Lake Zurich American Legion

-playing in a basketball camp at Stevenson High School:

-playing in a summer passing league at Wauconda High School;

-working a part-time job. Such is the life of a threesport athlete these days, a specialization.

"I did not realize how tough it was until this year," the all-conference basketball, football and baseball player said.

Throughout high school sports, demands of holding a job, grades and one sport seem to be factors in the decline of the once-common three-sport athlete.

"Students find they have to work to support a car or in some cases, their rarity in an age of family," Grayslake athletic director Harold Jahnke said.

Plus, in many schools there are simply just so many athletes to go around.

"We are a school of 1,000 and probably 500 are boys and of that 250 are out for sports," Lake Zurich baseball Coach Kent Stocking said.

Grayslake track and field Coach Joel Peebles lot more one-on-one coaching.

Perhaps the best way to describe junior college baseball to an outsider is it is a half-empty, half-full situation.

Musselwhite ready for 'fun' in her final season

Mundelein softball player Susan Musselwhite has carned the accolades, heard the coaches' praise and felt the pressure of being one of the top softball players in the Chicagoland area.

Now, as her senior year winds down, she has a different goal.

"I want to have fun this year," Musselwhite said.

Longtime Mundelein softball Coach Jim dcRivera has not stopped praising the fast-throwing pitcher since she arrived in Lake County from the deep south her freshman year.

"She's the best athlete I've ever coached. Athletes like Susan come along once in a lifetime," deRivera said.

This was a cold Tucsday afternoon at Mundelein Community Park as the Mustangs prepared for a doubleheader there against Thornwood the next day.

But the 30 degree

MHS player with a southern accent.

"Susan has a quiet leadership. She leads by example," deRivera said.

The coach said Mussclwhite does not consider herself the "star" of the team.

"She realizes it is a team sport," dcRivera said.

The Mustangs have won a wall-full of North Suburban Conference championships in deRivera's years, including an 18-0 record last year. Mundelein has five straight 20-win seasons to its credit.

Musselwhite's resume is an impressive won: 52-14 overall record; school-record 137 RBIs; 70 extra-base hits and of course, those 13 no-hitters and a perfect game against Antioch two years ago.

"It definitely has to be the toughest loss. It really throws your emotions off," Musselwhite said.

But before she even heard of the Trevians, a young Mussclwhite was playing baseball with her two brothers in the fields of Mississippi.

Near-perfect Mustangs set to defend NSC title

Let the North Suburban for perfection in the fifth Conference season begin.

the That's Mundelein's softball team is approaching the 1989 campaign after trouncing Carmel 12-1 Monday,

"The exhibition season is over. We are on our way," Mundelein Coach Jim deRivera said.

Carmel's first batter in the .h, Michelle Muellner, proke up the bid with a clean single to right on an

0-1 pitch. Carmel's Stephanie Godwin also got a hit and Mucliner scored on a passed ball.

"You hate to see her lose the perfect game in the fifth inning, but the win is the important thing," deRivera

The Mundelein mentor praised the work of catcher Holly Smith.

Carmel dropped to 3-5 overall.

As far as deRivera is concerned, the Mustangs are ready to defend their NSC championship. The Mustangs host Warren April 22.

Carmel will host McAuly April 22 in a doubleheader in Mundelein.

Before the Carmel game, MHS humiliated North Chicago 39-1 and 36-1. Mundelein completed a series of non-conference games against the state's top teams with a 7-2 win over New Trier.

In the Carmel game, a seven-run second inning provided some breathing room for the home team.

Mundelein sent 10 batters to the plate in the second inning and took advantage of three Carmel errors.

wo years ago, as usual, ke Zurich baseball Coach Kent Stocking did just that. One of those privileged to finish out the season with the varsity was Scott Krzeminski.

and Freshmen suphomores play their games so I did not get to know Scott until the end of the year. He was in a group of talented sophomores who could have started for the varsity," Stocking said.

Crzeminski, three years later, is now contemplating scholarship offers and winding down a three-sport career with the Bears.

Through all the allconference team award selections and other honors,

Scott Krzeminski

Krzeminski has remained Krzeminski said. his same old self, according to Stocking.

"He has had a lot of success here at Lake Zurich but has always had a good attitude. His parents (Ken and Lois) had done a good job. He has not really changed that much," Stocking said.

Scott's father, Ken, in fact, was his first coach, teaching the youngster the basics of catching the ball, throwing and griping the bat and all the little things which make up a good little leaguer.

"I started playing football when I was eight and baseball when I was nine,"

During that time, he would watch tapes of Chicago Bear linebacker Dick Butkus and try and pick up the finer points of catching by watching Gary Carter of the Mets and hitting tips from Andre Dawson of the Cubs.

Basketball was added to agenda while the Krzeminski was a student at This winter he capped off his hoops career by averaging 18 points a game for the Bears.

Although a three-sport athlete is rare these days, Krzeminski said there has been no pressure from the three coaches to give up one of the other sports.

"One thing that stood out was his arm. That and his attitude. He has always kept on task," Stocking said.

Sometimes those tasks have been multiplying rabbits at a pet store.

Originally a starting pitcher, last year he was switched to the bullpen and picked up seven saves in Lake Zurich's 11 wins. He can also play shortstop and catch.

*Catching is difficult because you have to be on the ball all the time," Krzeminski said.

A quarterback also has to be ready at all times on offense and perhaps Krzeminski's best moment at LZHS came on the gridiron. The Bears, after a sub-.500 season the year before, finished 6-4 in Krzeminski's junior year and were the only area team to make the playoffs.

Halfway into that year, school officials turned on the switch for the football field lights. The Bears fell to Cary-Grove in the playoffs.

As for the future, Stocking is using his talents as a guidance counselor in helping Krzeminski choose the right college.

"It's kind of confusing for him because they're a lot of factors to be sorted out. He's looking at all types of schools," Stocking said.

By the end of the month, all Lake Zurich will know Krzeminski's decision.

But that will not mean Northwest Suburban Conference foes should breathe easier.

Scott's younger brother, Brian, is a freshman at LZHS ready to rewrite the record books. And he could get his start next year - the same as his older brother.

ohnsburg tracksters aim repeat

The memory will be remembered for a long time. There was Johnsburg girls track and field Coach Bob Texidor, standing at the far end of the Marengo High School football field, piping cake from his hair.

The Skyhawks had good reason to let their coach eat cake. They had just won the Northwest Suburban Conference championship, beating back a strong Grant and Marengo team.

In three weeks, Texidor and crew are hoping the recipes will be ready and no one, as the old song goes, will leave the cake out in the rain.

"We're looking to repeat as conference champs," Texidor said.

The Skyhawks hopes for a repeat conference title are anchored by seniors Angie DeWolfe, a sprinter and relay specialist. Jenny Bachne, a relay specialist; hurdler Cheryl Cummings and sprinter Kim Johnson.

Sophomore Beth Barrett, who finished second in the McHenry County meet a frosh in the long jump, also returns.

Texidor hopes juniors Michelle Litt in the relays and shot putter Nickki Marringer also contribute Senior Jenni Heumann returns in the 100 meter dash.

"I think we're in pretty good shape in the relays. It's the field events we need to work on," Texidor said.

Texidor said he expects some stiff challenges before the Skyhawks can retain the conference title in the NWSC meet at Wauconda May 5.

"It's going to be a competitive conference." Texidor said.

Texidor expects Grant and Marengo to be top challengers with Grayslake and Round Lake as improving teams.

The Skyhawks won their own triangular with 88 points. Harvard had 56 and Richmond-Burton 27.

Fired-up

(Continued from page 3) dealing drugs and using semi-automatic weapons go hand and hand and drug dealers will always have guns in their possession, law or no law, since breaking another law doesn't bother them.

According to Dan Stone of Round Lake, an anti-gun ban advocate, the National Firearms Act of 1934 and other laws have prohibited the sale of an unplugged machine gun in the State of Illinois ince

Stone also claims that the report gotten from the sheriff's departments of both Lake and Kenosha counties, that it would take only 10 minutes for someone who knows what they're doing to convert a legal semi-automatic gun into an automatic gun is over simplified.

According to Stone, " This conversion entails making several small and intricate parts by a skilled machinist. After the parts are made, they must be installed and adjusted by a gunsmith."

So, according to Stone, just anyone who has ownership of a semi-automatic gun, like the AK47s that have been receiving so much publicity recently connot spend a short time and do the conversion themselves.

Stone claims all states demand that a person purchasing a firearm comply with federal regulations which call for a license issued by the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

The license for an automatic weapon in Wisconsin, says Stone, is only issued after an extensive background check, that includes fingerprinting, has been made by the FBI. This is what the previous article on gun control stated, Stone claims that the purchase of a howitzer in the State of Wisconsin is regulated by the 1934 gun law and such weapons are not for over the counter sale.

The mention of this weapon, correctly stating that if one should be able to get a hold of one, its possession was not illegal in Wisconsin, was done to emphasize the looseness of the gun possession laws in that state, a fact that legislators are now trying to rectify.

A five-man Wisconsin Senate Committee has put new gun control laws on the front burner with a meeting on the proposed legislation set for this week.

Stone says that the purchase of guns, including semi-automatic weapons, at the Lake County gun show is not illegal. This was not stated in the previous article,

The 33 arrests were made at the gun show last month because the people selling the guns were doing so in many ille-

The point was that many of the gun sellers arrested had been able to purchase the guns they were selling somewhere, although they did not fit the legal code required of a gun purchaser.

"I feel very strongly about my right to own and use firearms as guaranteed by the Constitution and as part of that right it is my duty to know and understand the laws regulating firearms," adds Stone.

The latest legislation introduced by Ill. State Rep. John Porter, asking for a waiting period along with a mental health check a criminal background check on prospective handgun purchasers, is asking for the same check to be made on handgun purchasers as Wisconsin now requires be made on those who purchase automatic

The National Rifle Assn. has backed the call for a waiting period on the purchase
